

Woodman Talks: 2025

23 APRIL - ROY TYZACK

"A story on every street"

Roy Tyzack B.E.M is a retired police detective having served for 25 years in London's metropolitan police and later on the Essex and Kent Serious and Organised Crime Directorate, investigating murders and other high-profile cases. In 2003, Roy was presented with the British Empire Medal by H.M. King Charles 3rd. For services to the community. His talk will be 'A story on every street corner', an illustrated virtual tour from Stratford, East London, through to Aldgate, on the boundary with the city of London, highlighting the amazing wealth of history along this route from the home of explorer Cpt. James Cook and the Kray twins haunts to the Elephant Man and the Whitechapel Bell Foundry.

21 MAY - LUCY LEWIS

"Lighting the Fuse"

Lighting The Fuse is a light-hearted talk about training at the Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst in the late 1980's, bomb disposal techniques and dilemmas and then brings the audience up to date explaining how military training helps to tackle the challenges of modern University life

11 JUNE - ROB PALEY

'Masters of the Air: The Reality'

"Masters of the Air" and the reality of the series versus the true history of the Bloody Hundredth Bomb Group of WW2, and then tie it in to what the Bloody Hundredth Air Refuelling Wing based at RAF Mildenhall does today

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

The Woodman Inn, Nuthampstead, SG8 8NB

Arrival from 7:30pm for 8pm start

£10 per person

Attendees are welcome to come for a meal before the talk.